

THE FINAL SWING

BT GOLF MUMBAI MARKED A FITTING FINALE TO THE 2025-26 SEASON, AMIDST CONVERSATIONS ON THE EVOLVING BUSINESS LANDSCAPE

BY SAKSHI BATRA

A GENTLE SEA breeze from the Arabian coastline welcomed golfers as they assembled at the historic Willingdon Sports Club. There was an unmistakable sense of occasion, not just another round, but the closing chapter of a season that had travelled across India's finest courses. Conversations carried a mix of anticipation and reflection, as players gathered for one final contest on the greens.

BT Golf Mumbai unfolded with a certain poise, much like the city itself, fast-paced in ambition, yet measured in execution. The course demanded sharp thinking from the outset. Narrow fairways, deceptive greens, and the ever-present coastal wind tested both precision and temperament. In the Double Peoria format, no lead felt secure, and every hole carried the potential to reshape the leaderboard.

However, as always, BT Golf was about more than just the scorecard. Between tee-offs and putts, the real game played out in conversations—on markets, macro shifts, leadership, and the evolving business landscape. In the final leg, participants reflected on a year of challenges and opportunities, both on and off the course.

Akshay
Kilachand,
Director,
Skyline Chem
Trade Ltd