

users,” V Balasubramaniam, MD and CEO of the NSE International Exchange, tells BT. The exchange is already in touch with 40-50 referral partners (entities who bring new clients to a trading member). “The US is already live. In another couple of months, we should be able to add another 20-25 venues. We will cover the major ones like Europe, Japan, Hong Kong, Korea and Australia,” says Balasubramaniam.

Resident Indians are permitted to take out $250,000 each financial year under the Liberalised Remittance Scheme. Earlier, they may have invested via Singapore, Dubai or even Mauritius. Now, fund managers are launching alternative investment funds (AIFs) in GIFT IFSC to cater to the growing demand from resident as well as non-resident Indians. According to data from IFSCA, 208 fund management entities and 349 AIFs have registered in GIFT City, with total targeted corpus of over $80 billion. The operational funds have already raised commitments worth $32 billion, of which $14 billion has been deployed in India.

Sachin Sawrikar, managing partner, Artha Bharat Investment Managers, says GIFT IFSC has moved past the experimentation phase into a period of sustained institutional growth. “The increase in the number of fund managers, active funds, and capital deployment reflects a structural shift rather than a policy-driven aspiration. Regulatory certainty from IFSCA, a competitive and predictable tax framework, and India’s expanding engagement with global capital have positioned GIFT as a credible alternative to international offshore jurisdictions,” he says.

Artha Bharat is among the few fund managers in GIFT City that run outbound investment strategies for non-resident investors. It
