

"I WANT THIS PARTY AND GOVERNMENT TO STAY."

PRAMOD PUSHKARNA

Chaudhary Charan Singh

So said a confident leader of the Bharatiya Lok Dal, Chaudhary Charan Singh, when he became prime minister on July 28 with the support of the very same Indira Gandhi who had jailed him during the Emergency in 1975. But she hardly let him settle in, before withdrawing support when Jagjivan Ram tabled a no-confidence motion, leaving Singh heading a caretaker government till her return to power in 1980.

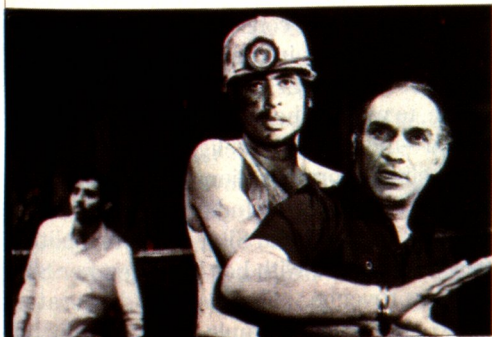

Jayaprakash Narayan to

S.M. Joshi, hours before his death on Oct 8

"I am sleeping and forgetting all that has gone before... I feel my life's sun is setting... for me to rise no more."

SOFT FOCUS ON HARD FACTS

Yash Chopra's Kaala Patthar was the director's fourth collaboration with Amitabh Bachchan, about poorly treated coal mine workers and a humiliated Naval officer. A soulful soundtrack and strong performances by Shatrughan Sinha and Shashi Kapoor made it a classic to remember.

In the Name of the Poor

On October 17, Mother Teresa was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for taking care of the poor in Calcutta's slums and dedicated the prize money of Rs 15,20,000 to helping them. "I am grateful to receive the Nobel in the name of the hungry, the naked, the homeless, of all those who feel unwanted, unloved in society," she said while accepting the honour.
