

A movement called Liberty

1964

A movement that's led to Revolutions in 12 cities across the country.

New Delhi, Hyderabad, Indore, Lucknow, Chennai, Kolkata, Pune, Mumbai, Chandigarh, Ghaziabad, Noida and now in Bangalore. In 12 cities across the country today there are 15 "Revolutions Concept Stores." That's 15 fashion hubs in prime up-market locations that make even the sleekest of the showrooms look quite ordinary. It's a high fashion chain that caters to individual styles and looks, in an ambience that is as magical and exciting as the products being lined up. Indeed, the sheer international ambience and uniquely customer-friendly layout of "Revolutions" go well beyond the expected, making it perfect for the style-driven seeking the very different, very desirable and very premium in footwear fashion and accessories. What's more with new models being introduced every week and stocks changing every six months, the fashion shoppers will always find themselves in with the latest. The chain of "Revolutions Concept Stores" is growing and in the next 3 years will include 50 outlets covering all state capitals as well as fashion centers extending from West to South East Asia, namely Dubai, Dhaka, Kuala Lumpur, Bangkok, Colombo and Singapore.

For us at Liberty it is a continuous reinforcing of our being about people and reassuring consumers that the brand is "Aaj ka style wave."

FOOTWEAR FASHION & ACCESSORIES
Freedom from the usual

Montage 2017 07

New Delhi TDI Mall, Rajouri Garden • Rohini Metro-Walk Bangalore Lido Mall Noida Great India Place Hyderabad Prasad Shopping Mall • City Centre Ghaziabad Shipra Mall Chandigarh Mani Majra Indore Treasure Island Lucknow Saharaganj Chennai Spencer Plaza Kolkata Forum Pune ICC Trade Tower Mumbai Inorbit, Malad • CR2, Nariman Point

THE TWISTER

The Rameswaram cyclone wiped out the villages of Dhanuskodi from the map. A passenger train which left Rameswaram was washed off by the storm leaving several dead. The Pamban bridge connecting Mandapam and Rameswaram island was also submerged.

ONE MAN, ONE ACT

Sunil Dutt, a popular and charismatic star, made his directorial debut with Yaadein, a one-of-a-kind film with a single actor. It had some bizarre scenes like an attack from a bunch of toys. The only other living presence in the film was the silhouette of Priya, played by his actor-wife Nargis. The film's story was credited to her.

