

MP GOVERNMENT INITIATIVE

Improving Public Service Delivery

Madhya Pradesh is blazing a trail of efficient, transparent and people-friendly administration, emerging as a model dispensation at the cutting edge of e-governance

SHIVRAJ SINGH CHAUHAN
Chief Minister, MP

THANKS TO THE INNOVATIVE LEADERSHIP OF Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chauhan citizens in Madhya Pradesh are today able to lead a hassle-free life. It has been done with the help of administrative reforms, using the advantages of e-governance, reducing procedural delays, promoting transparency and efficiency, curbing official corruption and removing inconveniences to citizens. "MP On-line" is the new mantra.

The digitised dispensation has ensured quick public service delivery and cut down on excessive governmental expenditure, while increasing public revenues simultaneously. This dual advantage ultimately benefits the public. One example is the computerisation of government treasuries. Consequently, the Budget is available to all DDOs on the 1st of April.

One clear proof of the success of the new system is adherence to Budget and reduction in excessive expenditure. In 1999-2000 it was Rs. 1584 crore that has come down in 2005-06 to Rs 37 crore. On the other hand, the efficient monitoring of state taxes boosted collections to Rs 9,113 crore in 2005-2006 from mere Rs 5,795 crore.

The following are the major administrative reform initiatives:

- Computerisation of Treasuries.
- Project Clearance and Implementation Board
- Suraaj Samadhan Online, Parakh, Samadhan Ek Diwas
- Chief Minister Monitoring System for Projects
- Smart Card Driving License and Vehicle Registration
- Office Process Automation in Mantralaya
- Land record Computerisation: Land Record Online
- Network of Mandis
- Portal for the Citizen
- Electronic Tendering
- Commercial Tax Information System

The scope, sweep and content of the reforms is amazing as it touches every possible sphere and level of governance: from panchayat, taluka, sub-division to district headquarters, up to the state capital. It requires a tremendous amount of electronic networking and re-orientation of the vast civil service from development of block level to the secretariat in Bhopal, and MP has proved that such a massive enterprise can be accomplished. An instance of the e-savvy system can be seen in the functioning of Project Clearance and Implementation Board, whose functioning can be understood by having a look at the box on the next page.
