

Which business house gives away all its profits for a cause?

Over 24 Hamdard institutes work towards bringing smiles and lighting up lives.

Hamdard (Wakf) Laboratories, the makers of Rooh Afza, Cinkara, Safi, Roghan Badam Shirin and over 600 OTC & ethical products, have been dedicating all their profits to the Hamdard National Foundation for over 40 years.

Set up in 1962 by Late Janab Hakeem Abdul Hameed, Hamdard National Foundation today runs several schools and over 24 educational institutions

In the last 40 years, Hamdard has donated over Rs. 1600 Crores towards education & healthcare.

in Nursing, Medicine, Social Sciences, Historical Research, International Studies and other disciplines. These institutions not only extend subsidized education but also provide scholarships to several thousand needy students every year. Hamdard is also the only commercial enterprise that runs a private deemed university - Jamia Hamdard.

The foundation also has charitable hospitals that provide free and subsidized healthcare to needy patients every year.

A charity of this scale is possible because the foundation is funded by Hamdard (Wakf) Laboratories. The company that promotes Unani (one of the oldest forms of medicine) and gives away every rupee of its profits for this cause.

In a nutshell, Hamdard (Wakf) Laboratories exists for Hamdard National Foundation. This is a rare example where corporate social responsibility is the corporate mission itself.

It means that whenever you buy a Hamdard product, you help someone needy. And partner Hamdard in spreading hope, health and happiness across the nation.

Every year, over 60,000 students get subsidized education and over 2 lakh needy patients get treated at nominal cost.

Hamdard provides higher education in Management Studies & Information Technology.

Subsidized healthcare for the needy at Hamdard's Majeedia Hospital.

Hamdard provides vocational training in Nursing for economically challenged women.

Hamdard organizes talent search initiatives and provides scholarships worth crores for the education of bright but economically weak students.

Hamdard sponsors fellowships for research in Medicine. Hamdard Education Society has conducted several studies and surveys in education and also organizes various seminars and workshops.

Hamdard offers free coaching for Civil Services with accommodation. Over 195 Hamdard students have made it to higher Civil Services. Free coaching for admission to Engineering, Medicine and other professional courses is also provided.
