

Mars and Saturn that leads to tumult and spells doom.

When will the polls be held? >> Any time after November 21 this year, and well before the same month next year. The election will lead to the formation of a good government since Jupiter is transiting his own house.

Who will form the government? >> It is difficult to say whether the NDA or the UPA will form the next government.

Who will be the prime minister? >> The prime minister will certainly be a mature man with a good following.

GORAKSHANANDA KAKA MAHARAJ, Nashik
Will the Government fall? >> No.

When will the polls be held? >> The next elections will be held six months before the full term of the government gets over. So, we are likely to have polls around December 2008.

Who will form the government? >> The NCP, the Samajwadi Party and the Shiv Sena will form the new government at the Centre.

Who will be the prime minister? >> The next prime minister will be Sharad Pawar with Mulayam Singh Yadav as his deputy. Mayawati will play an important role in forming the new government.

KAMESHWAR UPADHYAYA, Varanasi
Will the Government fall? >>

Yes. Since July 14, Saturn has changed its position and is set to trigger unexpected political events. Under such a situation, Saturn influences the events six months before its arrival to its previous position. This was the reason why the ruling parties in Uttar Pradesh, Punjab and Uttarakhand lost power and paved way to their opponents.

By when? >> It is a matter of days and will not last even a month.

When will the polls be held? >> Mid-term polls are ruled out immediately, as there would be two prime ministers from the present Lok Sabha.

Who will form the government? >> The new combination would be dominated by an individual and not by a political party or two. An individual would cobble together a combination of parties to take over the reins.

Who will be the prime minister? >> A sophisticated fair-complexioned man or woman will take over after the exit of Manmohan Singh.

SEHLI, Chennai
Will the Government fall? >> No. But someone else will replace Manmohan Singh as prime minister.

When will the polls be held? >> There won't be any mid-term poll at the Centre.

Who will form the government? >> This coalition government led by the Congress will complete its full term under a different prime minister.

Who will be the prime minister? >> Though Sonia Gandhi's horoscope shows her time is good right now, she will not become the prime minister. But someone very close to her will occupy the top job.

REUTERS/B MATHUR

SHAILESH RAVAL

RAVI RAO, Ahmedabad
"The Government will complete its full term but will continue with misunderstandings. A change in the Ministry of External Affairs is likely."

Will the Government fall? >> No. It will complete its full term but will continue with misunderstandings. There will be a possibility of a change in the Ministry of External Affairs.

When will the polls be held? >> The next polls will be