

held on schedule but till then Manmohan Singh, though continuing as prime minister, would lose credibility due to the 12th house congestion. Leo congestion of Saturn, Sun and Mercury aspect of Mars indicate foreign policy dispute or war-related equipment.

Who will form the government? >> It will depend on the timing of the poll. The planetary conditions will decide the next government.

Who will be the prime minister? >> The prime minister can be forecast only after the poll dates are announced.

"There could be a revival of raja yoga for the BJP while the Congress party will see a major weakening with loss by death of more than one major party functionary."

Will the Government fall? >> Yes. This Indian independence year comes under a sensitive phase with venus dasha (major period) ending August or September 2007, which marks dasha chitram (rupturing of the period) for the country. This is likely to cause sudden developments leading to a major shift in political equation, turbulence and confusion.

By when? >> Jupiter is in the eighth position... it is deceptively placed at 12th lord, raising a question mark on the survival of the UPA Government. Unexpected developments could see sudden termination of power, but this could happen anytime, in the Hindu lunar calendar, between April 2007 and April 2008. Anytime in this period, the government could come down.

When will the polls be held? >> There is a strong possibility of mid-term polls being thrust on the country.

Who will form the government? >> The lunar year will continue till April 2008 and it may again be a coalition government considering the nature of politics in our country. There could be a revival of raja yoga for the BJP in this period. While the Congress will see a major weakening with loss by death of more than one major party functionary, some highhandedness by its own leadership may prove to be its undoing.

Who will be the prime minister? >> Can't say, unless I have the charts of all the major contenders. I have no idea about them now.

Will the Government fall? >> Yes. After September, the UPA Government will go through a very turbulent phase. It is likely that the Government will not be able to complete its full term.

By when? >> Next year during March-April, the UPA Government will fall.

When will the polls be held? >> Election will be held in the next two-three months after the government falls.

Who will form the government? >> It is too early to say that. However, the Congress will fare much better in the polls. The BJP will also do well. The Left parties may lose their seats.

Who will be the prime minister? >> It is not possible to say that yet. But Sonia Gandhi will never become the prime minister.
