ASIA - PACIFIC INSTITUTE

Asian vision with global

Shri A.K. Shrivastava

Chairman, Asia-Pacific Institute of Management

AIM has been into management education for the last 11 years. What do you think of its contribution to management education?

Mr. Shrivastav: Asia-Pacific Institute of Management, the name for offering quality and professionally competitive education has proved its competence in offering excellent management education while giving the best placement opportunities and with excellent teaching resources including library. Thus it has achieved tenth batch of business management students and more than 750 alumnus representing AIM in various reputed firms across the country.

AIM boasts of being one of the best, quality education providers in the country. Due to consistent efforts, we have been continuously rated as among top leading business school in the country by AIMA (as per survey conducted in 2006).
