

CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF FUNDING

- Fresh funding rounds indicate that investor interest is returning. However, capital is flowing into proven business models rather than the sector as a whole

- Advisory and marketplace-only models struggled in the earlier wave and often found it difficult to drive adoption and monetisation at scale

- The sector's revival is being led by companies that have moved beyond these offerings and building end-to-end platforms

- Investor attention is expanding to areas such as agri-fintech, post-harvest infrastructure, AI, robotics, climate resilience and precision agriculture

◀ GREEN AMBITIONS

A farmer operating a drone to spray liquid fertiliser over a farm in Pataudi, Haryana