

HOW IMPORTANT PARAMETERS STACK UP

REIT	Completed area (msf)	Future development potential (msf)	Occupancy (%)	Weighted average lease expiry (years)	Gross asset value (₹cr)	Loan to gross asset value (%)	Credit rating	Re-leasing spread (%)
Embassy Office Parks	43.5	9	90	8.5	70,540	30	AAA	24
Knowledge Realty Trust	37.2	9.2	92	8	67,411	18	AAA	26
Mindspace Business Parks	32	7.3	96	7.1	47,600	29	AAA	-
Brookfield India	32.5	4.6	93	6.7	56,500	32	AAA	18
Nexus Select Trust	10.7	-	97	4.5	30,600	18	AAA	18

SOURCE COMPANY PRESENTATIONS FOR FY26

Peush Jain of Anarock adds, “Tech layoffs should bring only limited near-term headwinds for REITs. Demand is no longer tech only, and GCCs lead India’s Grade A office market with 47% of gross leasing in Q1, 2026, up from 36% in Q4, 2024.”

Another key aspect is that many global companies are increasingly carrying out high-end work from Indian office spaces, and are not just focused on software services.

“Contrary to the fears around AI, we are seeing the work done from India go up the value chain. GCCs undertake high-end high-quality work and give us 45% of our gross rentals. Also, another 31% of our rentals come from front office assets that are client-facing. These are insulated from AI impact,” says Shirish Godbole, CEO, Knowledge Realty Trust.

The war in West Asia and spiralling energy prices, too, do not seem to have done any serious harm to occupancy and leasing decisions.

“There have been some near-term challenges. We have seen travel disruptions and airspace constraints affect transaction timelines in the market, and there are cases where occupiers have become more cautious about capex deployment or slowed decision-making. Demand fundamentals remain intact. In one case, a 200,000 sq. ft GCC requirement in Hyderabad was paused due to the war, but the same space was leased to another GCC within 15 days at a higher rental,” adds Nair.

“Office completions in Q1 2026 fell 18% YoY, partly due to disruptions linked to West Asia. This suggests occupiers and investors have largely ridden out the shock, particularly in prime stock,” adds Peush Jain.