

Cantabile Acts

Fresh from playing the devil in Marlowe's Faustus on the British stage, the talented Ayesha Dharker will soon be seen on Indian screens in Manish Acharya's crossover film Loins of Punjab Presents. Co-starring Darshan Jariwala and Shabana Azmi, the film is based on a reality singing contest. As for mainstream masala, Dharker is open to working with "the new wave of directors because they have a fresh sensibility". On her wishlist are the likes of Vishal Bharadwaj and Ashutosh Gowariker. Are they listening?

GEM OF A WIFE

Suzanne Roshan is all set to grab some of the stardust surrounding husband Hrithik. The petite mother of one has taken on a modelling project for a jewellery collection designed by her sister Farah Ali Khan. "Suzanne has a very ethereal and timeless look. She is beautiful inside out and that is something I wanted to capture," says a gushing Farah. Of course, it took some convincing from hubby dearest for the reticent Suzanne to step in front of the camera. Jewel of a campaign, did you say?

Full Throttle

It's bumper to bumper good times for Karun Chandhok, India's best known racecar driver after Narain Karthikeyan. Chandhok, 24, enjoyed his most profitable race weekend in Italy recently, winning points for his team Durango on the GP2 Circuit, racing against, among others, Brazilian Bruno Senna, nephew of the great Ayrton. With Vijay Mallya saying he wants an Indian on his Spyker F1 team, things can only get better.

MINISTER'S PRIME

Even as Karnataka battles with the impending change in guard, current Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy seems to have found a new interest—films. Preeti Yeke Bhoomi Melide (Why There is Love on this Earth) directed by Kannad actor-director Prem, will hit theatres in a month and the chief minister will play the role of a politician who holds forth on matters of the heart. "He was a complete natural," says Prem. And why not? He had Mallika Sherawat for company in the special appearance category.
