

for the new World

competitive edge to stay ahead. With a range of 28 subjects in two years, group presentations, talks by behavioural experts, management workshops and games, real-world speakers from the industry, one week of training in corporate readiness programmes per semester, stress on demands of the work place, ethics, mock interviews are also de rigueur. Students are assessed through group presentations, field assignments, desk-based assignments (paper submissions with full bibliography) and attendance in corporate events. They are expected to attend a minimum of four corporate occasions through their tenure. In the past, these have included the CII HRM Summit, CII International Marketing Summit and various workshops, seminars, quizzes and conventions by ASSOCHAM, AIMA, FICCI and TCS.

Infrastructure & Student Care

Skyline takes pride in providing students with personalised care and counselling, a Wi Fi campus, air-conditioned classrooms fitted with VCD and LCD projectors, a state-of-the-art library, computer labs with high speed Internet connectivity, gymnasium, indoor and outdoor sports facilities, an on campus hostel for girls and an off campus for both the sexes run by ex-defence personnel. Various academic and cultural committees add to the joy of a wholesome student life.

Faculty

Faculty, at Skyline, is drawn from elite institutions (IIMs, FMS, NMIMS, MICA

etc.). Most of them have worked with top companies, in the rapidly changing industry scenario and are well aware of the demands of the corporate world. Faculty development programmes, organised regularly, helps them interact with their peer group, attend conventions and events and stay in touch with the industry and changing professional environment.

Updates

The Skyline Education group generates a highly evolved monthly newsletter for the industry. Sent to 1500 companies, it encapsulates and critiques articles from top management journals, including the Harvard Business Review and the likes, thereby providing the corporate world with a new paradigm of thought and enhancing student cognition simultaneously. Weekly newsletters on management, mass communication, travel and the BPO sector are also electronically disbursed to 15,000 corporates as a regular Update. These are all developed by students.

Placements

Skyline also generates placements for its students through trade fair participation, round the year interaction by the group's marketing managers and corporate networking through guest faculty. The School is proud of its alumni employed with HDFC, IndiaBulls, ICICI, Price Waterhouse Coopers, Albertsons, USA, American Express, Standard Chartered, Naukri.com, Bank of Punjab, TATA AIG, Bennett, Colemans & Co. Ltd, Equus Advertising, Mudra Communications, Grey Worldwide, British Airways, Lufthansa, KUONI, Thomas Cook and many other global organisations.

Mr Puri efficiently sums up the credo of the Skyline Education Group in one sentence. "We would like to be known for quality, above all, backed by a innovative curriculum delivered through technically state of the art innovative methodology."
