Legendary athlete Carl Lewis, winner of 10 Olympic medals, narrates how, when on meeting his coach for the first time, he said: "I just want to run and be a great athlete and a millionaire." The coach looked at him dead in the eye and told Lewis, who was then just out of high school, "If you really focus on making money and fame, then it is never going to happen. But if you focus on being the best you can be, then it can happen. You can be an Olympic champion."

Be the best you can be. That's the big message from this year's INDIA TODAY-AC Nielsen-ORG-MARG's annual survey of academic excellence. Institutes that
