

GIREESH G.V.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

HK RAJESHEKHAR

"Our key differentiator is the emphasis on the overall development of our 7,000 students."

A. MUTHUMALAI, LOYOLA COLLEGE

Loyola takes pride in a faculty that trains students in a host of Oriental and European languages, along with Indian dialects like Malayalam, Telugu and Sanskrit. Many of the staff members teaching foreign languages flaunt foreign education.

Extra-curricular activities are given equal weightage. Even as the first semester commences, students quietly gear up for Oventions, Loyola's popular inter-departmental festival. "We have as many as 7,000 students and it's important to harness their talent and potential," says Father Muthumalai about Oventions which fosters camaraderie among students. "At Oventions, we literally let our hair down," says P. Vivek, a former cultural secretary of the Students' Union. A two-day cultural extravaganza, the high point of Oventions last year was not only its high-budget—nearly Rs 14 lakh, courtesy sponsorships—but also its inauguration by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M. Karunanidhi. The event was conducted in the college's Jubilee Block open air theatre with Karunanidhi talking about college life and, of course, his pet subject, Tamil literature.

Talking of bigwigs, the college counts names like Union Finance Minister P. Chidambaram, former president of India R. Venkataraman,

LEAP TO THE TOP: Students of Loyola College celebrate

HOT OFFERS To BOOST YOUR COOL FACTOR.

Free* iPod Shuffle

Free* HP Skin
worth Rs. 999/-

An HP Sports Backpack for just Rs.1300/-*

EMI* scheme available

Free one year insurance* with every

HP Pavilion Notebook

Call 1800 425 4999 or 3030 4499, visit www.hp.com/in/personal or your retailer.

*Conditions apply. Offer for college students.
For final terms & conditions on the offer, log on to www.hp.com/in/promotions