

Dotcoms Once More

HP on Top
Surprise: The Balu Doraisamy-led company is a Rs 12,000-cr IT giant.

BT Money
An investment portfolio for your kids.

Deccan's Spiral
Does Captain G.R. Gopinath run the risk of losing his grip over Air Deccan?

PLUS:

- The GM Seeds Controversy
- Shoppers' Stop Feels the Heat
- ICICI Bank's $5 Billion Offering
- Coming Soon: DLF IPO

It's Back!

Big money and big battles are beginning to kick-start India's internet market like never before.

INSIDE

The Coming Portal Wars
Old Media Gets Net Savvy
Why VCs Still Love Dotcoms
The Hottest Verticals
The Rajesh Jain Column

Like elsewhere in the world, dotcoms made a strong comeback in India last year. A record number of dotcoms got funded in 2006 and all the world's big internet giants are now in India, vying for a piece of the rapidly-growing market. Besides, old media companies are drawing up their Net strategies with a vengeance. Business Today, India's No.1 business magazine, takes you inside the new dotcom phenomenon.

Plus: HP's Quiet Rise to the Top • Air Deccan's Losing Altitude • Special on: India's Best Equity Analysts

business today

business today

To subscribe, log on to www.business-today.com/call toll free 1800 1800 100

business today
FOR MANAGING TOMORROW

No. 1 as per IRS 2007 R1 and NRS 2006 (Paid & Claimed Readership)