pitals. Rainbow Children's Hospital is also expanding north, with Chairman Dr. Ramesh Kancharla citing the high concentration of births in Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Rajasthan and Haryana.

The Yashoda Group, meanwhile, is investing close to ₹2,400 crore in Yashoda Medicity in Greater Noida. “The hospital sector is seeing strong investor interest and consolidation, and we are closely observing these trends,” says Dr. Upasana Arora, Managing Director, Yashoda Group, which is also in discussions with the government on public-private partnership models.

Specialty chains are expanding alongside multi-specialty operators. HealthCare Global Enterprises (HCG), which runs 25 oncology hospitals in 19 cities, plans to add 1,000 beds over the next five years.

“India recorded an estimated 1.56 million new cancer cases in 2024. We are expanding to provide specialised cancer care to more patients,” says Dr. Manish Mattoo, CEO and Executive Director, HCG.

THE CONSOLIDATION WAVE

Consolidation is a key part of the growth strategy of the hospitals. Rather than building hospitals across scattered geographies, companies are creating regional clusters that improve referrals, optimise specialist resources and make better use of infrastructure.

Manipal Health says acquisitions are the starting
