

India Inc's Global Manufacturing Footprint

Indian companies are increasingly taking their factories beyond the home market

▶ INDIAN COMPANIES' OVERSEAS expansion has accelerated in recent years. In FY26 alone, according to the Ministry of Finance data, total outward direct investment (ODI) was $26.7 billion—up by over $12 billion from just two years earlier. This at a time when inward FDI has slowed dramatically in recent years.

Apart from plants located in India, manufacturing companies in BSE1000 also reported a strong presence in factories located outside India, with 204 locations across the United States, Europe, China, South America, and South East Asia, among others. Among these locations, we have also included mines owned by the respective companies.

Companies such as Carborundum Universal (industrial products such as abrasives etc), Rain Industries (chemicals), and Varroc Engineering (auto components), have substantial overseas presence. Carborundum Universal, a part of the Murugappa group, has over 16 plants or mines, across the United States, Australia, and Europe, owned through subsidiaries or joint ventures.

Overall, outward investment by manufacturing companies (based on Ministry of Finance data) alone has been around 19% of the total ODI since 2023-24—around $12.3 billion. ODI by the finance sector accounted for close to half (45%) of the total ODI in this period.

In terms of sectors in the BSE 1000 list, companies in the industrial products business, and pharma, dominated. BT
