

LEADING THE WAY

Tata Group, at a group revenue of $170 billion, has a large presence in manufacturing. Given the history of the group—it goes back almost 160 years—and its diversity, its role in manufacturing continues to be in line with an evolving India. Our list has 32 companies from the conglomerate, including listed and unlisted names. Their success can be attributed to several reasons, but nothing is more important than staying ahead of the curve—be it on technology, ushering in a high-quality workforce, entering new markets and segments, working on very complex assignments, and just moving with the times
