

for the world, World Yogi Day encourages individuals, communities, and institutions to recognize consciousness as the foundation of peace, health, and responsible leadership.

World Yogi Day emphasizes continuous inner evolution, disciplined awareness, and compassionate participation in society. Maha Sivratri symbolizes stillness, clarity, and the capacity to remain centered amidst complexity. Maha Shivratri Night, is not just day in Hindu spiritual calendar. It is global 24-hour vigil of mantra, meditation, music, and stillness. This is the moment when the inner Yogi awakens radiant, fearless, and free. Nandhiji's core body of work, Mastery of Consciousness, is designed to support instantaneous awakening and the expansion of consciousness.

Through this platform, Nandhiji shares meditation, yoga, Siddha chant music and spiritual teachings for seekers across the world. His Siddha mantra music, including Turiya Nada, has been energetically received by participants. This year, on the 11th of November, CNESS would also launch the global initiative that brings individuals, leaders, institutions, communities, creators, innovators and wisdom traditions together through one shared theme: The angelic number 11.11 aims to bring humanity together on one global stage.

At its centre is a 24-hour rolling Global Summit connecting regions and time zones through dialogue, culture, leadership, technology, enterprise and public participation.

DOCM transforms consciousness from a universal declaration into a living global movement through practical pathways for action and expression.

Voice of Consciousness gives individuals a platform to share stories, reflections, experiences, ideas and messages that awaken awareness and inspire conscious participation. It brings together voices from different cultures, generations, professions and communities, allowing every person to contribute to the global conversation on consciousness.

Other key initiatives which come under Nandhiji's global initiatives include: Ariven Community (2008–present) – A California-based nonprofit dedicated to sustainable sanctuaries for retired cows and oxen, reflecting principles of ecological reverence and compassionate stewardship.

Sensitive Planet Inc (2005–present) – A holistic lifestyle and wellness marketplace promoting conscious living and wellbeing-oriented calibrated through kinesiology with the intention of helping dissolve the limitations to enlightenment

Through CNESSWORKS, consciousness becomes more than an aspiration. It becomes a living organizational practice that is visible in leadership, experienced by people, reflected in every relationship, and expressed through lasting impact.

Companies too adopt conscious business practices as consumer expectations favour a purpose-driven organization. Various studies show that businesses with strong environmental, social, and governance practices often outperform traditional competitors on long-term financial metrics.

Younger demographics actively choose brands that align with their values and are willing to pay a premium for products that show keen commitments to social responsibility.
