

INDIA'S SPACE DREAMS

(From left) Raj Chengappa, Group Editorial Director, India Today Group
Pawan Goenka, Chairman, IN-SPACe

» India's private space sector is moving from experimentation to commercialisation, with the industry now entering a phase where repeatability, scale and demand will determine its global competitiveness, Goenka said

» Goenka stressed that one successful launch alone cannot establish a sustainable launch business. Reliability and repeatability will be critical as private companies seek to win commercial customers carrying expensive satellites, he said

| 99

FUTURE OF MOBILITY

Hisashi Takeuchi, MD & CEO, Maruti Suzuki India

» "India is an important hub of manufacturing cars for Suzuki Group. We represent about 55% of total PV export from India. This year our export is reaching 55% of total export from India," he said

INDUSTRIAL REVAMP

Amitabh Kant, Former G20 Sherpa and former CEO, NITI Aayog

» "We have done a lot in different sectors, but need to crack several sectors. Manufacturing-led urbanisation is very important, manufacturing competitiveness is important, we must accelerate the pace of defence manufacturing, which will lead to technological inflow, improving skills and outcomes," he said