

96 | FROM PILGRIMAGE TO INDUSTRY

Pushkar Singh Dhami, CM, Uttarakhand

» “The perception of Uttarakhand as an investment destination had changed significantly in recent years. The state has been working to make it easier for companies to set up operations while improving connectivity and industrial infrastructure,” Dhami said

» He referred to the Delhi-Dehradun Economic Corridor, highlighting how the journey between Delhi and Dehradun can now be completed in two to two-and-a-half hours

NEW HORIZONS

Swapan Dasgupta, Finance Minister, West Bengal

» “Land is always a ticklish issue in West Bengal because of two reasons. One, it is in short supply due to sheer population pressure, and secondly, land holdings tend to be of handkerchief size,” he said

» He also noted that if businesses are purely looking at West Bengal in terms of incentives, there are states that give better incentives. But the state has an ecosystem in place, he said
