How Bajaj Housing Finance became the third-largest housing finance player in India without compromising asset quality

BY JYOTINDRA DUBEY

Atul Jain, Managing Director, BHFL

WHEN BAJAJ HOUSING Finance Ltd (BHFL) was hived off from Bajaj Finance in 2017, the expectations were high considering the standards Bajaj Group's financial services businesses have set by their use of technology to power unprecedented growth and wealth creation. BHFL has surpassed those expectations.

In just eight years in operation as a standalone entity, BHFL has evolved into one of India's fastest-growing housing finance companies (HFCs). After a stellar stock market debut in September 2024, BHFL is aggressively challenging a territory historically dominated by banks.

Since its foray into the mortgage business, the company has consistently outpaced industry peers
