BANKING ON INTELLIGENCE

From geospatial analytics to AI-driven lead management, Canara Bank is transforming innovation into measurable gains in customer acquisition

BY PALAK AGARWAL

FOR CANARA BANK, innovation is the operating philosophy. Recognised as Best in Innovation among public sector banks in the BT-KPMG Best Banks and NBFCs Survey, the bank has embedded data, analytics and artificial intelligence (AI) at the heart of strategy, customer acquisition and branch-level execution.

At the centre of this shift is its Data Analytics Centre of Excellence (DnA), set up two years ago. It integrates data analytics, business intelligence and AI to shape products and growth strategies. "All our strategic initiatives originate from insights derived from this Centre," a spokesperson for the public sector bank said.

Canara Bank has designed targeted retail products for women, youth, students, senior citizens, gig workers and HNIs. In MSME banking, analytics-driven segmentation has enabled tailored working capital and cash management solutions.

"We have moved from intuition-driven acquisition to precision-led growth," the spokesperson said.

At the branch level, the impact is measurable. The bank's lead management framework provides enriched, high-probability leads to branches.

With a conversion rate of around 43%, far higher than traditional raw leads, the system has boosted sales efficiency and reduced fatigue among frontline teams. Follow-ups are digitally tracked, with escalation protocols ensuring accountability.

The operational payoff of this approach is visible in the financial performance, analysts say. "Canara Bank has been consistently delivering all-round operating performance with strong loan growth momentum and profitability," says Nitin Aggarwal, Head of BFSI, Institutional Equities, MOFSL. BT
