

| THE POINT |

CONSUMPTION CRUNCH

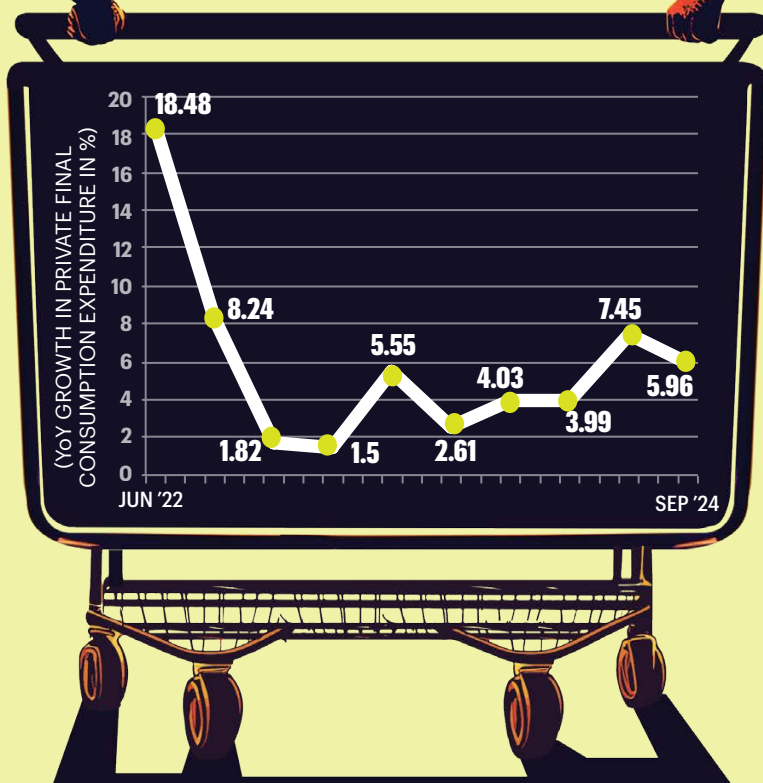

High inflation and low wage growth have hurt Indian households in recent times, leading to a decline in consumer demand in Q3FY25. There are expectations that the government might introduce measures to stimulate private consumption and boost investments to support demand. All eyes are now on Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, who will present her eighth Union Budget on February 1. Let's take a look at the key factors that are influencing demand:

By RAHUL OBEROI & PRINCE TYAGI

Graphics By RAJ VERMA

LOSING APPETITE

AFTER RISING TO A SEVEN-QUARTER HIGH IN Q1FY25, PRIVATE FINAL CONSUMPTION EXPENDITURE GROWTH SLOWED TO 6% DURING THE JULY-SEPTEMBER QUARTER

NOTE DATA FOR THE RESPECTIVE QUARTERS;
SOURCE CMIE ECONOMIC OUTLOOK