

» Discussing the newly revised tax slabs, Ved Jain said the move is expected to further accelerate the migration of salaried taxpayers towards the new tax regime. "Such big tax relief has not been given earlier in any budget. This was possible due to the unprecedented rise in personal tax collection in recent years," added Jain

» Nangia said reducing complications in tax compliance by cutting down on the required details during various types of tax filings is the need of the hour

» Pratik Jain said he expects a renewed boost to economic activities to help the government achieve 14.5% growth in tax collection in the next fiscal

TAXONOMICS OF THE BUDGET

(From left) Ved Jain, Tax expert

Rakesh Nangia, Founder & Managing Partner, Nangia & Co LLP

Pratik Jain, Partner, PwC India

Shailendra Bhatnagar, Chief Analyst & Markets Editor, Business Today TV

| 85

THE MONEY MANTRA

Shailendra Bhatnagar

Dhirendra Kumar, CEO, Value Research

Vijay Kedia, MD, Kedia Securities

Maneesh Dangi, CEO & Founder, Mosaic Asset Management

» Kedia said the Indian equity market may continue to consolidate. The market veteran said that he does not look for sectors where competition is high with China and he is focussing on domestic themes like tourism

» Kumar advised investors to invest gradually in this market. "Never invest all at once," he said, adding that if one invests regularly in mutual funds, even a bad fund manager can't ruin a portfolio

» Sharing his views on the rupee, Dangi said the local currency is at a reasonable valuation. "A falling rupee typically benefits the IT sector and precious metals," he added