

At the Belvedere Club in Ahmedabad's Adani Shantigram township, Jeet married Diva — daughter of diamond trader Jaimin Shah — on February 7, 2025. According to family insiders, the wedding was a simple affair, with the usual religious rituals followed by a traditional Gujarati ceremony attended only by close relatives and friends.

Jeet serves as Director at Adani Airports, managing six international airports and overseeing the construction of a seventh one in Navi Mumbai. Apart from the airport business, he oversees the infrastructure major's defence, petrochemicals and copper businesses. He is also in charge of the conglomerate's digital transformation. Jeet is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania's School of Engineering and Applied Sciences.

Adani Family Supports Newly-Married Divyang Women

Just two days before the wedding, Mr. Adani announced "Mangal Seva", a programme to support newly-married women with disabilities. To begin with, every year, 500 such women will be provided financial assistance of Rs 10 lakh each. Jeet met 21 newly-married divyang women and their husbands to launch this initiative.

Mr. Adani took to X to express his joy that Jeet and Diva are starting the first chapter of their conjugal journey with a virtuous resolution. He said that Jeet and Diva have pledged "Mangal Seva" by providing financial assistance of Rs 10 lakh each to 500 newly-married women with disabilities.

He added that through this sacred initiative, the lives of many disabled daughters and their families will be uplifted with happiness and dignity. He blessed Jeet and Diva to continue moving forward on this noble path of self-less service.

Jeet is inspired by his mother, Dr. Priti G. Adani, who transformed the Adani Foundation from a small rural project in Mundra, Gujarat, into a global force for social change. He is keenly interested in philanthropic initiatives, with a focus on supporting people with disabilities.

Mr. Adani's exemplary gesture of "Seva Over Self" on Jeet's wedding day has set an example. By choosing to support social causes, he has redefined the essence of celebrating personal milestones by introducing a thoughtful, community-focused ap-
