

Immigrants' Game Gets a Makeover

India's most popular sport is making giant global strides backed by diaspora, an audience-friendly short format, and a gush of money. Can it now capture the attention of a wider global audience?

BY KRISHNA GOPALAN
