pioneer in wine tourism. Every weekend, there is traffic leading to Napa. It's a billion-dollar wine tourism economy," says Samant.

Not just Napa, but wine tourism, from Tuscany to Bordeaux in Europe and from Yarra Valley in Australia to Hawke's Bay in New Zealand, is seeing significant expansion with forecasts predicting growth from nearly $96 billion in 2024 to around $333 billion in 2034, a CAGR of 13.2%, per a report by market research Future Market Insights.

Wine tourism in India, though nascent, is growing. At Sula, nearly 20% of the ₹600 crore revenue comes from wine tourism. Sula's latest Q3 reports show a year-on-year increase of 11.6% in wine tourism.
