Building a Legacy of Innovation

On his journey of explorations to build an enduring legacy of excellence, Gaurav Agarwal said, "Starting IngenX wasn't just about identifying a market opportunity; it was about creating a company with a soul." His firsthand experience with the limitations of generic solutions sparked the foundation of IngenX Technology in 2016, driven by the need for personalized, value-driven strategies. Gaurav's vision extends beyond merely constructing an SAP solutions company; he is dedicated to establishing a lasting legacy of innovation and significant impact. His career, which spans from SAP Consulting to his current role as Co-founder of IngenX Technology, showcases his relentless pursuit of excellence and a profound passion for leveraging technology to resolve critical business challenges. A solution delivery expert, Gaurav, is passionately focused on providing affordable cloud solutions to customers.

Driving Innovation

IngenX is driven by the vision to deliver affordable, next-generation cloud solutions. Its key offerings include:

- IngenX Gas Management System (iGMS): A unique and comprehensive solution tailored for the complexities of natural gas and hydrogen logistics via high-pressure gas pipelines. iGMS meticulously manages the intricate processes inherent in natural gas pipelines, tracking every molecule that passes through them in business parlance. Its functionality encompasses the business needs of both Pipeline Transmission System Operators (TSOs) and gas shippers or owners, ensuring seamless and transparent operations.
