

PHOTO COURTESY EMILY IN PARIS/NETFLIX

| 91

MORE THAN 15 MILLION VISITORS ARE EXPECTED TO VISIT PARIS FOR THE OLYMPICS AND PARALYMPICS

PARIS JAZZ FESTIVAL

If you're a music enthusiast with a passion for jazz, then the Paris Jazz Festival is definitely something to check out when you're in the city. This summer, the festival will be held at Parc Floral de Vincennes from June 26 to September 8. Expect wonderful open-air concerts in an idyllic setting, offering the perfect music break from the hustle and bustle of the city. What's more, all nine daytime concerts are free of charge and accessible without a reservation.

L'OLYMPISME EXHIBITION AT THE LOUVRE

If you enjoy art, then a trip to the Louvre while in Paris is a no-brainer. This time, visit 'Olympism—Modern Invention, Ancient Legacy', a special exhibition at the Louvre that started on April 24 and will go on till September 16 on the creation of the first modern Olympic Games. You can discover how the Games came into being in the late 19th century—the political context of the time, the iconographic sources on which they were based, and how they recre-

THE FRENCH CONNECTION

Hit the town in search of all the filming locations of the Netflix show Emily in Paris ated the sporting competitions of ancient Greece—all through various paintings, drawings, and sculptures. Do not miss the first Olympic Cup, designed by French academic Michel Bréal, and therefore also known as 'Bréal's Cup'. A French silversmith created it for the winner of the first marathon—a race invented for the modern Olympic Games.

HIT THE HIGH STREET

No trip to Paris can be complete without some retail therapy, and just because it's the Olympics and sports is taking over doesn't mean that everything else is going to be put on the back-burner.