

MARKETS GOING THE AATMANIRBHAR WAY

- (From left) Sakshi Batra, Anchor, & Senior Associate Editor, Business Today TV
- Shailendra Bhatnagar, Editor (Markets), Business Today TV
- Dhirendra Kumar, Chief Executive Officer, Value Research
- Vijay Kedia, Managing Director, Kedia Securities
- Ashu Madan, Co-Head, Business Affiliate Group & Managing Director, JM Financial Services

» In an insightful session, market insiders said they believe the momentum of the equity markets will be sustained on the back of a growing economy and robust liquidity from domestic investors

» Kumar said one should not just view assets in terms of annual returns and advised investors to have some exposure to PSUs

» Speaking on how to make money in a bull market, Kedia advised investors to not waste time on the Budget debate. "Use your knowledge to identify a good stock. Have some courage to buy a reasonable quantity per your worth and keep patience for a long time," he said

» Ashu Madan said the market has a long way to go, adding the structure is so strong that only phenomena like Covid-19 or the Russia-Ukraine war could cause a correction

» Kedia said he has been bullish on the infrastructure sector for the last three to four years

104 |

MAINTAINING FISCAL DISCIPLINE

- (From left) Abheek Barua, Chief Economist, HDFC Bank
- Aditi Nayar, Chief Economist, ICRA
- Surjit Bhalla, Economist & Former Executive Director, IMF

» Distinguished economists meticulously dissected the Budget at the India Today-Business Today Budget Round Table 2024 to understand its implications on various sectors of the economy

» Abheek Barua of HDFC Bank shared his insights on the broader economic implications. While being optimistic on private sector investments, he flagged possible challenges, saying there is a serious skills problem in the country

» Aditi Nayar spoke about the Union Budget's impact on tax rates and compliance. Being cautiously optimistic about future economic conditions, she added that rural consumption remains weak and a good monsoon can fix it but that is uncertain

» Surjit Bhalla appreciated the Budget, saying it ticked all boxes. "The fiscal deficit is now better at 4.9% of GDP, which is at the lower end of the range we had expected, making us quite pleased with the outcome," he said