INDIA IS ON an exciting journey towards achieving the vision of 'Viksit Bharat' which focusses on inclusive and sustainable growth. This initiative aligns with the current socio-economic agenda, emphasising key areas like employment, rural development, and infrastructure improvement. As India aims to become a $10-trillion economy by 2035, prioritising inclusive policies and sustainable practices is essential for creating a balanced development path that uplifts marginalised communities while promoting overall economic progress.

EMPOWERING RURAL INDIA

Empowering rural India is a central theme in the recent Budget, with an allocation of ₹2.66 lakh crore dedicated to rural development, including rural infrastructure projects. By improving roads, electricity, and communication networks, the government aims to create a thriving environment for economic activities in rural areas. This initiative will generate significant employment opportunities, improve living standards, and drive inclusive development, ultimately uplifting millions of lives across the country. Organisations like Jan Kalyan play a crucial role in this empowerment journey by focussing on education and skill development, ensuring that rural communities are equipped with the necessary knowledge and tools to seize new opportunities.

AFFORDABLE HOUSING

To tackle the pressing issue of housing shortages, the Budget em-
