

FOLLOWING THE TRAIL

Here is what Hindenburg Research claims are the links between the Adanis and Sebi chief Madhabi Puri Buch norms on disclosure of beneficial owners. Sebi had launched an investigation into the shareholding structure of Adani Group firms as far back as October 2020. It is not known if any of these 13 FPIs has approached Sebi for a settlement.

SOURCE: HINDENBURG RESEARCH, OCCRP DOCUMENTS QUOTED BY ADANIWATCH.ORG

Hindenburg claims that in its original report it had identified, among other funds, two Mauritius-based entities called EM Resurgent Fund and Emerging India Focus Funds. These two funds were disclosed as related parties of IIFL (now called 360 One) and overseen by its employees. "Vinod Adani... used this structure to invest in Indian markets with funds allegedly siphoned from over-invoicing of power equipment to the Adani Group," Hindenburg alleges.

The Adani Group has called the latest allegations malicious, mischievous, and manipulative selections of publicly available information for profiteering. "We completely reject these allegations... which are a recycling of discredited claims that have been thoroughly investigated, proven to be baseless and already dismissed by the Supreme Court in March 2023," it said in a statement.

Quoting whistle-blower documents, Hindenburg has alleged that the Sebi Chairperson and her husband Dhaval Buch held stakes in obscure multi-layered offshore funds involved in the Adani "money siphoning scandal". One of them refers to IPE Plus Fund 1, a small offshore fund set up by former Adani director Anil Ahuja and backed by GDOF, a Bermuda-based fund allegedly linked to Vinod Adani. This fund was managed by IIFL (now 360 One), a wealth management firm.

The IPE Plus Fund 1, a fully compliant and regulated fund, was launched in October 2013 and operated until October 2019. The investment in the fund mentioned