

Trivedi of Motilal Oswal says its jewellery business occupies 45% of the country's branded jewellery outlets. "Not many can achieve the level of efficiency in expanding stores that Titan has managed," he says.

JLL India, a consultancy specialising in commercial real estate, says competition among leading brands has been good for the sector. In the first half of 2024, jewellery brands took on lease close to 105,000 sq. ft of retail space in India's top seven cities. "Tanishq is one of the greatest success stories of Indian retail... It is the leader of the pack in its segment and is known to enter newer micro markets within major metro cities and even newer Tier II and Tier III cities," says Rahul Arora, Head of Office Leasing & Retail Services, JLL India, and Senior Managing Director for Karnataka, Kerala.

Titan's jewellery business has left other divisions such as Taneira, Skinn (perfumes) and Eye+ trailing behind. Between FY20 and FY24, the share of the jewellery division in Titan's top line has surged from 81.6% to 89.4%.

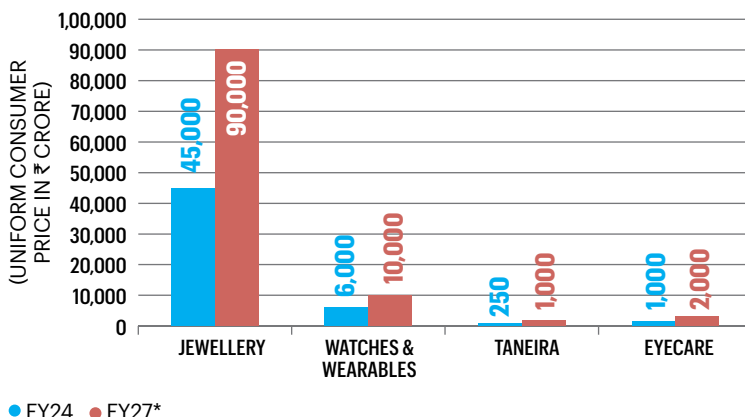

Trivedi says three factors have helped Titan: rising gold prices, steady retail expansion and market formalisation and consolidation.

The share of watches and wearables, its second largest division, fell to 8.3% in FY24, from 12.4% four years ago. Titan Eye+ has decreased to 1.5% from 2.6%. The other divisions, including handbag brand Irth, now contribute less than 1% from 3.4% in FY20.

According to Parida, the lack of growth of its other ventures is also part of the Titan story. "It has been disappointing that nothing that Titan has done, apart from jewellery, has done well. Titan entered the eyecare business way before Lenskart. It was Titan's first right to win. Then, there is
