HARISH KOHLI

President and Managing Director of Acer India

Harish Kohli, a stalwart in the IT industry, has been with Acer since 1999, handling various leadership roles to become the President and Managing Director of Acer India. With a wealth of experience spanning emerging markets, enterprise business models, and talent acquisition, Mr. Kohli has consistently demonstrated an exceptional ability to navigate and thrive in the dynamic tech landscape. His tenure at Acer India has been marked by significant achievements and innovative strategies that have propelled the company to the forefront of the IT sector.

TRANSFORMATIVE LEADERSHIP AND MARKET EXPANSION

Under Mr. Kohli's visionary leadership, Acer India has become synonymous with innovation and market leadership. He has expertly expanded Acer's portfolio, catering to a wide array of segments, including consumer, gaming, education, government, and enterprise. This broad product range has enabled Acer to maintain a leadership position in multiple market segments. Notably, the company's penetration into the gaming market and its dominance in the commercial sector highlight Mr. Kohli's strategic acumen. He has not only diversified Acer's offerings but also ensured the company's resilience and adaptability in a rapidly evolving market.

Mr. Kohli's strategic initiatives during the COVID-19 pandemic exemplify his forward-thinking approach. Recognising the surge in demand for PCs due to remote work and learning, Acer India swiftly launched an online store, extending its reach to over 20,000 pin-codes. This move was instrumental in providing a seamless omnichannel experience, bolstering Acer's market presence and customer satisfaction.

COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY AND CSR

Beyond his professional achievements, Mr. Kohli is deeply committed to sustainable development and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). Under his leadership, Acer India has made significant strides in environmental sustainability, launching eco-friendly laptops to promote sustainable computing. The company's manufacturing plant in Pondicherry, which produces a wide range of IT hardware, reflects Acer's commitment to the 'Make in India' initiative, contributing to the country's technological self-reliance.

Mr. Kohli's CSR initiatives are equally impactful. He has spearheaded programs that support over 4500 individuals in health, education, and livelihood sectors. These initiatives include basic computer awareness programs, healthcare support for the elderly and medical aid for visually impaired orphans. A standout project is the development of Visionova, specialised software for children with visual impairments — highlighting how technology can bridge gaps and improve lives.

INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES FOR A CHANGING MARKET

Harish Kohli has been instrumental in steering the company's diversification into the consumer electronics and server workstation markets. Under his leadership, Acer India launched Acerpure India, a brand dedicated to innovative consumer electronics, and Altos India, focusing on high-performance server and workstation solutions. These strategic initiatives have expanded Acer's market presence beyond personal computing, leveraging the company's technological expertise to cater to a broader audience. Kohli's vision and execution have enabled Acer to tap into new growth avenues, fortifying its position in the competitive Indian market and ensuring sustained business development.

Acerpure and Altos has significantly broadened Acer India's product portfolio, addressing evolving consumer needs and industry demands. Acerpure India, with its emphasis on cutting-edge consumer electronics ranging from TV, water purifier, vacuum cleaners, air purifiers, air circulator fans, personal beauty products and more has allowed Acer to enter the burgeoning home appliances market, providing innovative solutions for modern lifestyles. Meanwhile, Altos India focuses on robust server and workstation products, catering to the enterprise sector's growing demand for reliable and scalable IT infrastructure and data centers. These initiatives not only diversified Acer's offerings but also positioned the company as a versatile technology provider. Kohli's leadership in these expansions has enhanced Acer India's market relevance and competitive edge, fostering a more resilient and dynamic business model.
