

ALL ABOUT SKILLING

Jayant Chaudhary, Minister of State (Independent Charge) for Skill Development and Entrepreneurship, MoS Education

At the BT India@100 Summit, Chaudhary said the government is in talks with UGC for a skilling programme

Chaudhary believes India must have global ambitions in terms of skill development to meet the needs of the competitive talent market. "We are trying our best to inject skilling into the mainstream of the country," he added

The minister said it is crucial to inject skilling interests in the education system, adding that IT companies will play a very big role in the realisation of the (internship) policies

TOWARDS A RESILIENT INDIA

Sanjiv Puri, CMD, ITC Ltd and President, CII

As India bets big on becoming a developed nation by 2047, Puri emphasised the importance of inclusive growth, saying the country needs to invest for that

Stressing the role of large corporations in boosting India's fortunes, he also spoke about how they can support the MSME sector, which will be crucial for growth. "The growth path has to be inclusive and sustainable"

Addressing issues of climate emergency was another point of focus. Puri said India has a unique challenge charting its growth while lowering carbon emission. Additionally, he said, to scale its economy India needs to focus more on generation of intellectual property and invest heavily in research & development
