

FURNISHING A RENAISSANCE

FURNITURE MAKERS ARE CRAFTING NEW LUXURY FURNITURE DESIGNS USING LEATHER, GLASS, METAL, ETC. TO ENTICE BUYERS

THE INTERPLAY BETWEEN TRADITION AND MODERNITY, LOCAL CRAFTSMANSHIP AND GLOBAL DESIGN, IS RESHAPING THE INDUSTRY

DUE TO RISING DISPOSABLE INCOMES, URBANISATION AND AESTHETIC AWARENESS, MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING HIGH-END FURNITURE

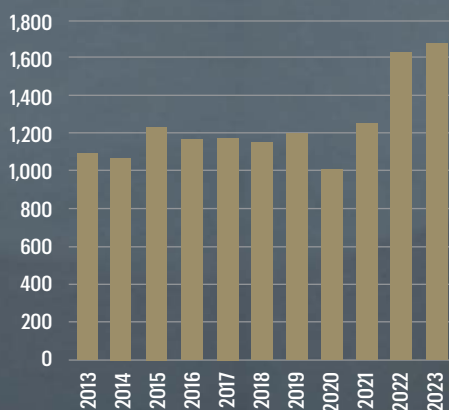

LUXURY FURNITURE MADE FROM WOOD AND METAL IS GAINING POPULARITY IN INDIA DUE TO ITS HIGH AESTHETIC VALUE AND DURABILITY

THE INDIAN FURNITURE MARKET, CURRENTLY VALUED AT $20 BILLION, IS EXPECTED TO GROW TO $34 BILLION BY 2028

SITTING PRETTY

● There is a notable increase in imports for 2022 and 2023, indicating significant growth compared to previous years

NOTE INDIA'S FURNITURE IMPORTS IN $ MILLION
SOURCE RESEARCH AND MARKETS

by 2028, according to data from Deloitte. However, it is worth noting that a significant portion of this market remains unorganised. The organised sector currently accounts for just 21% (around $4 billion) of the market. But its share is expected to more than double to $8.1 billion by 2028. This offers a substantial opportunity for brands to scale and increase market penetration, driving the growth of branded furniture.

THE GLOBAL INVASION

Nicola Coropulis, CEO of Poltrona Frau, has been busy. On a recent visit to India when he met Business Today, his time was taken up by visits to the company's flagship store in Mumbai, and meeting distributors from across the country. Poltrona is known to partner with famous designers and architects, and has a presence in over 100 countries. In India, the company opened its first store in Mumbai in 2010, and has since collaborated with local talent to craft its iconic array of home décor.

"India is a land of immense potential," Coropulis tells Business Today. He goes on to say that there is more to the Poltrona-India relationship than simply selling furniture. "It's about introducing a new level of luxury and experience," he says. Coropulis points out that the kind of luxury Poltrona provides is something the market lacks. "When you buy a Ferrari, you're not just buying a car. Similarly,