2 Art Basel, Switzerland

Art Basel is widely considered the pinnacle of contemporary art fairs, spanning four key global locations: Basel, Switzerland; Miami Beach, Florida; Hong Kong; and Paris. Originating in Switzerland in 1970, it expanded to Miami Beach in 2002, Hong Kong in 2013, and ventured into Paris in 2022. Each location serves as a vibrant stage for modern and contemporary artworks. Last year, it featured 284 galleries from 36 countries. And, Switzerland in the summer is always a good idea!

3 Venice Art Biennale, Italy

The Venice Biennale, established in 1895, is considered the mother of all art fairs, as it is one of the world's largest contemporary art exhibitions, featuring artists from over 75 countries. Through diverse mediums like performance, sculpture, and installations, it celebrates art, culture, and social issues. Initially held biannually, it now runs in even years (2022, 2024) for art and odd years (2021, 2023) for architecture. The 60th Venice Art Biennale in 2024 is curated by Adriano Pedrosa.
