

Domestic lenders such as State Bank of India and HDFC Bank have set up offices, as have foreign ones like HSBC and Deutsche Bank. Insurers like New India Assurance and ICICI Lombard are also present at the IFSC. Tech giant Google, fintech major Paytm as well as insurance behemoth Life Insurance Corporation of India have proposed investments. "I think Corporate India is now beginning to see the opportunity here of raising cost-efficient and timely capital for their businesses. This includes public sector undertakings," says Rajaraman.

What attracts businesses to GIFT City? As an IFSC, it has a special dispensation that allows for foreign currency transactions without capital controls. This enables businesses to operate from there and conduct international as well as India-facing operations in a more cost-efficient manner. "The inherent advantages that GIFT City offers are significant. India, with its young population, offers a huge skilled talent pool, and relatively lower operational costs. Hence, new businesses will find it an attractive proposi-
