

LESSONS IN ADVENTURE

ADVENTURE SPORTS DON'T JUST GIVE BOULT'S VARUN GUPTA AN ADRENALINE RUSH. THEY ALSO TEACH HIM ABOUT BALANCE AND RESILIENCE

BY NIDHI SINGAL

VARUN GUPTA, 33, travels frequently for work. But the Co-founder of home-grown wearables brand Boul't makes it a point to also plan for weekend getaways during work trips—whether he is in Europe, the US or China.

Of all the places he has explored till date, the Alps in Europe are his favourite. "It seamlessly combines everything I hold dear in my travels—from the intricate charm of historical architecture to the awe-inspiring beauty of nature. The European Alps, with their harmonious blend of artistic allure and breathtaking landscapes, have a way of enchanting every fibre of my being," says Gupta, who also loves strumming the guitar.

But more than architecture, the Alps provide the perfect playground for this adrenaline junkie. From thrilling ski runs to heart-pounding snowboarding adventures, the snow-covered slopes offer
