MUMBAI'S TAJ LANDS END witnessed an eclectic mix of trailblazing women from fields as varied as pharma, entertainment start-ups, finance and manufacturing, being felicitated at the 20th edition of the Business Today Most Powerful Women in Business Awards on December 8.

One of the highlights of the evening was a session with Madhabi Puri Buch, Chairperson of markets regulator the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi). Buch said parachuting women to the top and doing nothing at the bottom will not work for India. Further, Kalli Purie, Vice Chairperson of India Today Group, who delivered the vote of thanks, said: "The rise of women power is not just in urban centres and in gatherings such as this, but it has percolated down to rural areas. To me, this churn is most exciting and interesting."

The evening saw many power-packed discussions featuring panelists like Ashima Goyal, Arundhati Bhattacharya, Zia Mody, Ameera Shah and Rekha M. Menon, among many others, who discussed a range of issues from the challenges women face in the world of work to the opportunities before them. Read on to find out what they said.
