

JOURNEY THROUGH LEADERSHIP & INNOVATION

Nandini Piramal, Chairperson, Piramal Pharma

Addressing the disparities in quality standards, Nandini Piramal highlighted the challenges faced by Indian regulators and pointed out that not all Indian companies adhere to the same quality standards as their global counterparts

Highlighting the challenges faced by the industry, Piramal pointed towards the gender disparity in the workforce and noted the scarcity of women leaders in listed Indian companies while calling for inclusivity irrespective of gender, class or caste

Sharing her insights, she underscored the power of communication and transparent processes in fostering organisational growth

WOMEN MEAN BUSINESS

(From left) Siddharth Zarabi, Managing Editor, BTTV

Zia Mody, Co-founder & Managing Partner, AZB & Partners

Kalpana Morparia, Former Chairman, J. P. Morgan, South and Southeast Asia

Falguni Nayar, Founder and CEO, Nykaa

Citing negotiation as a primary reason women end up getting paid less than men for the same job, Falguni Nayar said that women need to strengthen their negotiation skills

Expounding on the same thread, Zia Mody said that talent and its retention is a crucial factor for the success of a services firm, and thus, being compensated as one deserves is a matter of self respect

Highlighting India's progress in terms of spreading awareness about gender diversity in the business world, Kalpana Morparia also said the government's recent move to bring a law mandating 33 per cent reservation for women in Parliament and the state assemblies is a welcome move