

DELVING DEEP INTO India's captivating tale of wealth creation, some of India's most prominent business luminaries gathered at the BT500 Wealth Creators Summit, held in Mumbai on December 13. The event saw them exchange numerous insights and ideas, ignite conversations that explored the multiple facets of India's economic prowess and the unparalleled opportunities it presents.

While the discussion on India's financial road map to a $5-trillion economy, featuring V. Vaidyanathan, MD & CEO of IDFC First Bank, headlined the evening's discussions, other eminent panellists, such as Anas Rahman Junaid of Hurun India, Ramesh Iyer of Mahindra Finance, Sunil Singhania of Abakus Asset Manager, and Nomura's Aurodeep Nandi, among others, discussed a range of aspects that are either doing well for India's economy or are posing challenges. For instance, Navneet Munot of HDFC Asset Management, highlighted the evolving landscape of India's investment scene and noted a significant increase in SIP investments, while Nilesh Shah of Kotak Mahindra AMC, advocated for a long-term perspective, and likened investing to a cricket Test match rather than a T20 match. Read on for more of what the panellists discussed at the event.

THE WAY TO WEALTH VIA IPOs

Manisha Girotra, Chief Executive Officer, Moelis India

Pranav Haldea, Managing Director, PRIME Database Group

Dhiraj Relli, MD & CEO, HDFC Securities

- ▶ Salil Pitale said that while the foreign component of the institutional book for an IPO used to be 75 per cent, in 2023, 60 per cent of the institutional book across IPOs has been domestic
- ▶ Calling India's stock markets resilient, Manisha Girotra said that as investors go up the risk curve, the country will see more investors coming to the IPO market
- ▶ Talking about how technology, regulatory framework and the ease of investing have built trust towards the capital markets, Dhiraj Relli said the culmination of these factors has enabled greater participation from retail investors
- ▶ Highlighting how the average issue size of IPOs in 2023 at ₹900 crore has come down from ₹2,000 crore in 2021, Pranav Haldea said this shows the confidence relatively smaller firms have in coming to the market to raise money
