

THE PILLARS OF CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

(From left) Sourav Majumdar, Editor, Business Today

G.N. Bajpai, Former Chairman, Sebi

Amit Tandon, Founder & MD, Institutional Investor Advisory Services

J.N. Gupta, Co-founder & MD, Stakeholders Empowerment Services

▶ G. N. Bajpai said that not only are independent directors tasked with looking after the interest of minority shareholders, they also advocate for the interests of other stakeholders

▶ Drawing a distinction between firms that communicate more and those that communicate less, Amit Tandon said that the former are usually better governed, while poorly governed firms tend to communicate less ▶ Lauding the introduction of reforms such as The Companies Act, 2013, LODR and e-voting, J.N. Gupta said firms are now compelled to listen to proxy advisory firms and other stakeholders

128 |

THE BUSINESS OF RISK

(From left) Sakshi Batra, Senior Associate Editor & Anchor, BTTV

Sandeep Parekh, Managing Partner, Finsec Law Advisors

Dinesh Kanabar, CEO, Dhruva Advisors LLP

▶ Citing a Harvard Business School study that classified risks to companies into three broad categories like preventable risks, strategic risks, and environmental risks, Dinesh Kanabar said that organisations have to keep their focus on all of these to survive in the long term

▶ Highlighting how companies thrive on some amount of risk-taking and how tough it is for anyone to predict risks in a holistic manner, Sandeep Parekh said that because of these reasons, companies should focus on building resilience for things that cannot be predicted