

THE SUSTAINABLE PATH TO PROFITS

Vikram Gandhi, Senior Lecturer, General Management Unit and Entrepreneurial Management Unit, Harvard Business School

▶ Vikram Gandhi said sustainability is not about sacrificing profits or doing good for the world, although the impact of sustainable practices may be that. He said that sustainability is about growing wealth through good businesses

▶ Further expounding on the idea of sustainable wealth creation, Gandhi said that among the trend of ESG investments, the focus on environment has created a massive opportunity for wealth creation in the field of energy transition currently underway across the globe

THE CULT OF EQUITY INVESTING

Nilesh Shah, MD & CEO, Kotak Mahindra AMC

Vijay Chandok, MD & CEO, ICICI Securities

▶ Sharing insights on his trading mantra, Vijay Kedia said that he does not invest on the parameters of a bull market or a bear market, rather on a company's fundamentals, and how it is performing with respect to the broader economy

▶ Nilesh Shah said that people should save money for investments before spending, invest regularly, invest for the long term and be a disciplined investor to ensure that investments grow over time

▶ Talking about how the markets have evolved over time, Vijay Chandok said that earlier investing in markets used to be considered akin to gambling but today it has gained more respectability
