

PROXGY TECHNOLOGIES (IOT-BASED SAFETY PRODUCTS)

• PULKIT AHUJA, FOUNDER

> KEY INVESTORS Madhuram Papers, Peyush Bansal, Suhail Samir and Binary Semantics

> FUNDING Raised ₹1 crore from Binary Semantics in 2020; raised ₹2 crore from Shark Tank India; and raised $2 million (at a valuation of $20 million) in 2023

► It's not easy to leave a high-paying job and take the plunge into the uncertainty of entrepreneurship. But Pulkit Ahuja did just that in 2013 on his 25th birthday. "The job paid much higher than what my family income was and the decision initially came as a shock to my parents," he says. Ten years later, he has managed to convince his Delhi-based parents that he is financially secure. With 25 patents under his belt, the serial entrepreneur founded Proxgy Technologies in 2020. The idea was to create a human proxy on the field that also provides real-time data and analysis. Today, it has clients like oil field explorers, where field workers wear its 360-degree vision helmets and deliver real-time data to the control centre. Ahuja says his company has a revenue run rate of ₹15 crore and profit after tax of ₹2.5 crore. BT

— BY ARNAB DUTTA

SERVIFY (B2B OPERATOR IN SALES & SERVICE)

• SREEVATHSA PRABHAKAR, FOUNDER

> KEY INVESTORS Iron Pillar, Blume Ventures, Beenext, DMI Sparkle Fund, and Singularity Growth Opportunity Fund

> FUNDING It raised its Series D funding in August 2022 at $65 million, taking the total amount raised so far to more than $100 million

> WHAT MAKES IT COOL Its operations are spread across the US, Canada, EU, the UK, Turkey and the Middle-East, besides India and counts top brands such as Apple, Samsung, OnePlus, Vivo, Etisalat, Panasonic, Bose and HP, among its clients

► IN ABOUT A year of starting up, Servify struck its first set of deals with top brands Apple and OnePlus in 2016. "This was the validation I needed, and thereafter there was no looking back," says Founder Sreevathsa Prabhakar.

The Mumbai-based B2B firm specialises in providing brand-authorised after-sales support for a spectrum of consumer electronics such as mobile phones and home appliances. Prabhakar, a corporate executive-turned-serial entrepreneur, says the 15-odd years he spent in customer service showed him that customers needed brand support throughout the product lifecycle and not just during the limited warranty period. Identifying a void in the market dominated by third-party operators offering sub-par consumer experiences, Servify stepped in with a digital solution connecting brands' sales and service networks.

Today, Servify boasts an impressive clientele, including top-tier brands like Apple, Samsung, OnePlus, Vivo, Etisalat, Panasonic, Bose, and HP. It is also operational in the US, Canada, EU, UK, Turkey and the Middle-East, besides India. "I never expected my journey as a founder to be rosy," says Prabhakar. The Covid-19 pandemic has been the biggest test of his leadership so far. While most of the world saw retrenchment of the workforce, Servify stood by its people. In FY23, the firm posted operating revenue of ₹611.2 crore and a net loss of ₹229.1 crore. BT

— BY VIDYA S.

