

FROM THE JURY'S TABLE

A look at what the jury was looking for in ventures that made the cut for BT Upstarts: India's Coolest Start-ups

By Team BT

72 |

SRINIVAS RAO MAHANKALI
CEO, T-HUB

"I considered the team's experience; the uniqueness of the problem and solution; the potential market size; indicators like revenue and funding; intellectual property; and the presence of a viable path to profitability"

K. GANESH
SERIAL ENTREPRENEUR AND INVESTOR

"We have focussed on choosing some bold innovative ventures that are tackling urgent needs of the masses in addition to recognising successful start-ups that have scaled and achieved commercial success"

ANAS RAHMAN JUNAID
FOUNDER AND MD,
HURUN INDIA

"I was primarily looking for companies that would solve for India and Bharat, help India build solutions for the world and as a result of all this, help our country swiftly reduce the GDP gap with other economies"

PADMAJA RUPAREL
PRESIDENT,
INDIAN ANGEL NETWORK

"I had four criteria: did the company disrupt the traditional way of doing business; whether it's in a sector that needs innovation; are they making solutions that can change lives globally; and building with new tech"

SIDDHARTH PAI
FOUNDING PARTNER,
3ONE4 CAPITAL

"I have considered the founding team's expertise; the addressable market; signs of sustainable unit economics; and the ability to leverage tech for rapid growth, among other parameters"