

Global Construction PMC Leader – Turner International – Building a Legacy of Excellence

Jairam Panch
Chief Operating Officer
Turner International

In a world constantly redefining progress, infrastructure stands as the cornerstone of societal transformation. At Turner International, our unwavering belief in delivering exceptional value through expertise, innovation, and integrity have positioned us as the global leader in the construction industry and shaped the very skylines that define nations.

As we commemorate 60 years of global success in 2025, we look beyond past achievements to embrace a future of opportunity, sustainability, and inclusive growth—particularly in dynamic regions like India, where infrastructure and building construction serves as a key catalyst for economic development.

Turner India: Strategic Growth Through Local Insight and Global Expertise

India, now poised to become the world's third-largest economy, represents both challenge and opportunity. Turner's journey in India began in 2007 and has since been a testament to our belief in the power of global-local integration.

Our projects—ranging from the Statue of Unity, the world's tallest statue, to the cutting-edge terminals at Bengaluru and Delhi airports and landmark retail, residential, commercial and museum projects—embody our ability to manage complex, iconic undertakings with finesse and contribute to nation building.

With offices in Mumbai, Delhi, Bengaluru, and Hyderabad, our 600+ professionals are immersed in the local culture and showcase global best practices on projects across the country. This hybrid model enhances our capability to provide differentiated services such as project and program management, preconstruction services, project monitoring, cost consultancy, BIM, and Technical due diligence—solutions tailored to the unique demands of each client and region.

Innovation and Lean Construction: The New Infrastructure Paradigm

True innovation lies in simplicity and efficiency. Turner pioneered the use of lean construction methodologies—a transformative approach that minimizes waste, enhances process flow, and elevates project outcomes.

This lean philosophy is not a buzzword—it's a disciplined, data-driven methodology that ensures sustainability, accountability, and stakeholder value. Our industry recognition, including the ET 2025 Best Project Management Consultants Award, underscores our ability to consistently deliver with excellence.

The Power of Purpose: DEI and ESG at the Heart of Growth

For Turner, business excellence goes hand in hand with social responsibility. As we mark our 60th anniversary, we renew our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI)—essential pillars of our global vision. In India's pluralistic context, this translates into empowering local talent, supporting community development, and promoting inclusive practices on every project site.

Simultaneously, our Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) strategy focuses on sustainable construction practices, reducing environmental impact, and creating healthier, more resilient communities.

Global Footprint, Digital automation

Turner's global success story is woven across 30 countries and thousands of projects. Whether it's delivering over 1,000 aviation and transportation projects, or managing more than 300 healthcare facilities annually, we ensure each assignment reflects our core ethos—serving as a reliable, innovative, and agile partner.

By embracing digital workflows, automation, and AI-driven construction technologies, we are reimagining what the future of infrastructure can be: intelligent, sustainable, and profoundly human-centered.

Leadership in Motion

At Turner, leadership is not confined to titles—it is a responsibility shared across our teams worldwide. As Chief Operating Officer of Turner International overseeing global operations, I am proud to lead a cadre of industry veterans and young innovators who are not only passionate about building structures but about building a better world.

Together, we navigate challenges, harness opportunity, and mentor talent. We understand that true leadership lies in creating impact that outlives us—through the skylines we shape, the communities we uplift, and the values we carry forward.
