

ress

NEW TRENDS

- Rapid infrastructure growth has boosted the number of luxury destinations
- Factors defining luxury are location, size, price, population density, green cover
- Despite the slight slowdown in sales, there is robust end-use and investment demand
- New hotspots along emerging corridors are becoming high-demand zones
- New address-makers create luxury properties in new areas and smaller towns